

Investigating MHM absorbents in Malawi

A situational analysis in communities and schools.

Created by Karolina Beznáčová
from Noun Project

The situation

In Malawi, women & girls have limited access to safe, affordable and convenient MHM absorbent methods.

What we want to know

What menstruation products are available nationwide and which ones have been successful?

Literature reviews

MHM absorbents in Malawi; relevant interventions; availability & appropriateness of WASH facilities for MHM

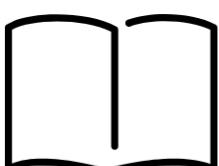

Created by parkjusun
from Noun Project

What we'll measure

Satisfaction of users receiving an intervention (including accessibility, soaking ability, size, texture, durability, appropriateness for skin, night and day use).

Qualitative research

- 1) In-depth interviews
- 2) Focus Group Discussions
- 3) Key informant interviews

Outputs

Detailed report and journal article

Relevance

Provides vital feedback to government & development partners, and will feed into national guidance & good practice for MHM in Malawi.

@SHAREresearch

Find out more

www.sharereresearch.org

Produced by

The Sanitation and Hygiene Applied Research for Equity (SHARE) consortium contributes to achieving universal access to effective, sustainable and equitable sanitation and hygiene by generating, synthesising and translating evidence to improve policy and practice worldwide.

